

Independent media is an important part of American discourse. Do not lift the ban on media cross ownership, because it will compromise this important aspect of our democracy. It is critical for intelligent discourse and an informed nation that the American media not be controlled by a limited number of interests.